[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO OCTOBER 13.

Another Scare in Canada.

NEW YORK, Oct 14.—The Herald's Toronto special dispatch says great excitement was caused at Fort Erie on Monday by the circulation of a report that an organized party of roughs contemplated a raid on Fort Erie and a guard of police was immediately called to patrol the [illegible] between Buffalo and Niagara Falls. A company of volunteers patrolled the river in the vicinity of Fort Erie and precautions were taken but the raiders failed to appear. The same day the Fenians had a picnic excursion down the river and when passing Fort Erie and the Canadian gunboat Rescue the band played "Wearing of the Green" and other popular airs and the excursionists waved their banners and cheered for Roberts and O'Neil. This so exasperated the Captain of the gunboat that he ordered the excursion boat away and threatened to fire into the party.

Letter to Maximilian.

WASHINGTON, Oct 14.—The following is the transcript of a letter to Maximilian, the original of which is in the possession of the State Department. The writer, Feloni, is a Belgian who possesses the confidence of Maximilian and his wife, and is one of the most influential and trusted advisers of the Emperor. He holds the office of Councillor of State to Maximilian and is now on a mission to Europe

"BIARRITZ, Sept 19.—Sire: The article in the French Moniteur stating that the French Generals have permission to assume the departments of War and Finance, proves that from this time Maximilian is [illegible] thrown aside. The mission of General Castelnau, Aid de Camp and confidential servant of the Emperor, although secret [illegible] have no other aim in my judgment than to provoke a solution as soon as possible. With a view to explain its conduct [illegible] which mission history must be the judge, the French Government wishes that an abdication should precede the return of the army, and that thus it may proceed at once to recognize a new order of affairs capable of securing its own interests and those of the subjects. I have a firm conviction that your Majesty will not give the satisfaction to a policy which must sooner or later answer for the odious character of these acts and for the fatal consequences which must follow them. The speech and toast of Seward at Rome shows the attitude of the President, and cowardice of French Cabinet and the grave facts designed to increase the difficulties and discourage the bravest; nevertheless, I have firm belief that an abandonment of the cause before the return of the French army would be interpreted as an act of weakness. As the Emperor holds his authority by popular vote, it is to the Mexican people, freed from the pressure of foreign intervention, that he should make a new appeal, and it is from them he should demand the military and financial support indispensable to the existence and increased greatness of the Empire. If this appeal be not heard, then your Majesty, having accomplished your noble mission, will return to Europe with all the prestige which accompanied you, and your departure amid the midst of important circumstances which cannot fail to arise, you will be able to play the role which belongs to you.

Setting out for Normandy on the 4th of this month with intention of embarking at St. Nazaire, Havana, I received the orders of Her Majesty the Empress. I was compelled to defer my departure. Again it needed this high influence to change the determination which my devotion urged upon me as an accomplishment of duty. I was greatly disappointed on learning that my numerous letters of the months of June and July did not reach your Majesty at the proper time. I sent, under cover to [illegible], long letters to that devoted friend to be communicated to your majesty. I was far from foreseeing the departure from Mexico. They have lost to-day all the interest which they borrowed from the unexpected events which followed so recently. I especially regret this unlucky incident, [illegible] for an instant your majesty's belief of my incessant desire to faithfully perform my duty. In crossing Austria I was able to observe the general discontent which reigns. Nothing is yet done. The Emperor is discouraged. The people demand his abdication. Sympathy for your majesty extends all over the Empire. In [illegible], a party is anxious to have its former government, but when the government arranges elections under the rule of universal suffrage, it is easy to face the result. In accordance with the last orders of your majesty I read this by mail. I telegraph in cipher to warn your majesty of the arrival of General Castelnau, and of the disavowal given to Osmond, and I have learned by that of the doubtful attitude taken at Paris by Almonte, which the Maximilian ministry at Paris have since displayed. This has become each day more public. For some time past he has loaded with favors and money young Talvatore, who himself knows nothing of this change. I think it necessary to take this young man back again near to me until the end of his vacation.

The health of Emperor Napoleon has seriously disturbed all Europe. His departure for Biarritz has been indefinitely postponed, caused, it is said, by a severe attack of diabetes and inflammation of the bladder, from which he is suffering. As for her majesty Empress Charlotte, in the midst of her flowers, which make Miramon enchanting garden, she shines in all the luster of perfect health.

I have the honor to be, sire, etc., etc.

[Signed] FELOM

MILITARY

Gen Hazen, in command of the new post on Sun river, with a small escort, arrived here last Tuesday. We understand that a beautiful site has been selected for the new military post, and that one hundred and ten men will be stationed there for the present. We are pleased to learn that a regular communication will be carried on between the new post and Helena during the winter. We look upon the establishment of this post as a matter of great importance, in a military point of view, to this Territory, and the commanding officer of the Department deserves the thanks of the people. It will put a stop to such excitement, in the future, as we had during last winter, on account of Indian troubles. A military police force was greatly needed at the point mentioned and cannot fail to be of great advantage. We hope the command, officers and privates, will have a pleasant time, that their presence alone may be sufficient to keep the Indians quiet, and that their intercourse with our citizens will be agreeable

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

From a private source, we are informed that a shooting scrape came off on the upper discovery, in Deep Gulch on Monday, the 24th of September, which resulted in the death of one man and the wounding of two others, the circumstances of which, as near as we can learn, are as follows

It appears that two brothers by the name of Shelly went to work on a piece of ground, and after performing some labor were waited upon by a man by the name of Strickling, who claimed that he owned the ground. The brothers continued their labors until noon, when they went to dinner, and upon their return found Strickling at work on the ground, with a double barreled shot gun along side of him. An angry discussion arose, when one of the Shelly brothers drew his revolver and shot Strickling through the body. Strickling then shot one of the brothers through the hip and fractured the arm of the other with a second shot. Strickling died of his wound about seven hours after he was shot, and at last accounts the Sheriff was out to arrest the brothers

MINING AT DIAMOND CITY

We have recently conversed with intelligent miners from Confederate Gulch, who concur in the opinion that it is one of the best mining camps in the Territory. At present there is not much doing on account of the scarcity of water, there being only about two sluice heads in the creek. If water could be had in sufficient quantities it would afford facilities for the employment of at least one thousand laborers. As it is, however, most of the claim holders and miners of Confederate Gulch will have to wait with patience until next spring, when an abundance of water will fill the ditches, and work will re open with great energy. It is a fixed fact that the quartz lodes of New York gulch are very rich. The runs made on Simpson's and other mills prove this. All these causes combined—gulch and quartz mining—will have a tendency to build up the business of Diamond City as well as Helena. We predict that in less than two years business of all kinds will be better in Montana Territory than it ever was in the palmiest days of Nevada, notwithstanding the extraordinary and persistent efforts of letter writers from this Territory who are interested elsewhere, to depreciate every interest in this country

QUARTZ SALES

The N Y & O Co have purchased the Eureka and Noonday quartz ledges this week, the former at $3 per foot and the latter at $7 50. The owners believe the property worth more money, but at the same time wisely act upon the true doctrine that it is better to sell for a price that will be safe to the purchasers and profitable to themselves. The sale will insure a thorough development of the ledges in 1867, which the owners were unable to make

KNICKERBOCKER

This Company are continuing their prospects on the Trook & Jennings and the south extension of the Morning Star claims. The latter has recently given signs of improvement. The north tunnel, which starts seventy feet down the shaft, and runs under Long Gulch, discloses more and richer ore than heretofore. The work is carried on day and night. The Trook & Jennings shows no additional encouragement

NEW SPECIMENS

Mr Asall showed us specimens of quartz picked up on the mountain east of the Trook & Jennings claim, which under the influence of fire exhibit surfaces covered with globules of gold and silver. There are many seams of rich quartz in that vicinity and Mr Asall and others believe a valuable ledge will be found thereabouts. They are constantly exploring the mountain side for ledges, and find many indications. Success generally follows patient search.

The Missionaries of Peace in a New Role

It appears from the experience of our times that there is a large party of men who, when war rages are devotees of peace and who, when peace smiles declare for war. It has not been long less than two years since we were accustomed to read in a certain class of newspapers the most moving appeals for peace,—peace on any terms—peace under any circumstances. War was a work in which none but barbarians would engage. The strife which was going on for Union and liberty was denominated "unholy." Almost as much ink was shed in writing against the "fratricidal conflict," as there was blood spilled to save the country from destruction. In season and out of season the cry was for "peace." It was a great pity, so it was, that villainous saltpeter should be digged out of the bowels of the earth and used to destroy our innocent Southern brethren. We had supposed that these missionaries of peace would organize themselves into a great society, prepared to devote itself to these beautiful doctrines forevermore. But they who implored for peace while the fires of war were burning, now invoke war to frighten the reign of peace. They who erewhile recoiled in horror from the thought of war, now talk of war's alarms with the utmost complacency. Indeed many of them seem to be extremely anxious for general blood letting. A Johnson is asked and expected to take the initiative. Our city neighbor tells him how he is to do it:

> "If there is found in the Constitution any power conferred upon the President to procure the "assembly of a Constitutional Congress," it is his duty to see where and of what that power is, and after having ascertained it to use that power, and to use the whole force of the Government to insure the success of the effort. * * * * He must look for aid to the conservative members now in Congress of all parties, and the moral support of their friends, and to those who are entitled to their seats from the Southern States. The latter to be of any service to him or the country, must be in their seats, and the President must place them there."

Which italics, supplied by the writer himself, render very emphatic. Paraphrased a very little, the whole would read: "It is the duty of the President to inquire, first, if he have the constitutional authority to force the rebels into Congress, and second, it is his duty to decide that he has. Having settled that matter, it is his further duty at once to use military force to place these rebels in Congress." According to this oracle, it is his duty, then, to decide who are entitled to sit in Congress, and if the loyal millions revolt from his decision and refuse to submit to so flagrant an outrage on the Constitution and their rights, the President must immediately unite all the disloyal factions for war against the vast loyal majority. Here is a plan all mapped out for another civil war. And here is a person who but lately was erecting altars to peace, declaring that the President "must" do that which, if attempted, will inevitably precipitate a bloody conflict. But the President has yet more discretion than some of his advisors. He will not undertake so desperate a work. He well knows that those who are urging him on to revolutionary measures, would abandon him at the first appearance of danger. Now that Congress has triumphed, another war will be impossible, and the President's valiant counselors would never talk as they do did they not know that there is not a shadow of danger.

Daily Line from Salt Lake to the Dalles.

A few days ago we gave a statement derived from an Eastern letter to the effect that the mail service from Salt Lake City to the Dalles is to be increased to six times per week. The Boise Statesman has similar information in regard to this project. It has not yet transpired who the contractors are, nor precisely when the service will begin, though the Statesman learns from the agent of the Holladay line that the new arrangement will go into operation as soon as the additional stock required can be procured and distributed along the line,—probably within a month. As Salt Lake City is to be made a distributing point for the mails, we shall therefore soon begin to receive our mail matter by a direct overland route, instead of by the long circuit through Nevada and California, as heretofore and at the present time.

Every effort should be made to economize time and cost in the transportation of the mails across the interior. The accumulation of business, the increase of population and the augmentation of travel, demand that new and better facilities be provided for supplying the Northern Pacific coast, as well as the interior Territories, with the mails. If this new line is to be established as above indicated, it will be of immense advantage both to this State and the country through which it is to pass.

NEW BOOK.—New Physiognomy, or Signs of Character as manifested through the Temperament and External Forms, and especially in "The Human Face Divine," by Samuel R. Wells. Sold by H. H. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

This is a large book of nearly 800 pages. Most of its matter is entirely new. Its pages are illustrated with about one thousand engravings, many of them, in connection with the accompanying delineations of character, possessing much value. It is decidedly the most complete book on Physiognomy ever yet published. The book, though written by a phrenologist, is not so entirely devoted to the propagation of that science as some other works of a similar kind, and therefore is free from many of those doctrines which are often thought absurdities. It is a work for popular reading, and is of a character to afford both entertainment and instruction.

It is very probable that both Colorado and Nebraska will be admitted into the Union this winter in spite of the President's veto. Had he put his veto of the act admitting Colorado on the true grounds, it would have commanded respect and might have settled the question, but as he went out of his way in his veto message to make an argument in favor of his policy, and assigned no reason for the non admission of the State except that it would not suit his "policy" to have her come in, Congress will very probably veto his veto and bring the two young States into the Union without delay.

MARYLAND.—A Washington dispatch (Sept. 20th,) states that the indications are that the Unionists of Maryland will elect three out of five Congressmen in that State, which will be a gain of one. The political contest as the elections near is becoming very fierce and bitter. The Union men declare their determination to prevent returned rebels from voting, even if they have to resort to arms. The feeling throughout the State in regard to Governor Swan's course, in reference to the appointment of Copperhead Registers is intense, and bids fair to find a vent on election day, if the registered rebels present themselves at the ballot box.

Henry J. Raymond says that A. Johnson "has uniformly disclaimed any wish for re-election." Modest man! Decline a re-election indeed! He has never been elected President yet, except by a Democratic assassin. His modesty in "disclaiming a wish for re-election" is paralleled only by the delicate manner in which he arrogated to himself all the honors and attentions that were shown to Grant and Farragut on the late tour.

The New York Tribune has a column article on "jackasses." We are not informed whether it was prepared as a professional essay by the honorable gentleman in the Oregon Legislature, who embellishes his oratory with striking metaphors suggested by his own experience with these recalcitrant animals.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF BILLS

Mr JOHNSON S B No 46—To aid the Grand Ronde and Tillamook Road Company. Read first and second times and referred to the Committee on Roads and Highways.

Mr JOHNSON S B No 4[illegible]—To aid the Astoria and Tillamook Road Company. Read first and second times and referred to the Committee on Roads and Highways.

Mr HINSDALE S B No [illegible]—To prevent Chinamen from holding real estate or working mines [illegible].

Mr HINSDALE moved to lay the bill on the table.

Mr CARTWRIGHT moved to amend—to postpone indefinitely.

Mr JEFFRIES said that in introducing this bill he was not acting upon any obligation imposed by the Constitution. He had no [illegible] but to do what he felt it his duty to do, and he had performed that duty in introducing this bill. The Constitution provides that no Chinaman [illegible] shall come here, and it required at the time of its adoption [illegible] that it was the duty of the Legislature to provide by suitable legislation for the enforcement of that clause. He felt that as a legislator he was under a constitutional obligation to respect the mandate of the Constitution. Gentlemen who did not feel themselves under any obligation to the Constitution, of course need not obey it; but he felt that the Constitution bound him.

Mr HINSDALE. The Senate has acted once this session on a bill involving this question and would perhaps not feel disposed to act again or reverse its former action. The consideration of this bill would therefore, only serve to take up time which could be better applied to the transaction of other business.

Mr HUSTON. We have not passed on this question. We did pass a bill taxing Chinamen—a bill which a majority of the Judiciary Committee emphatically pronounced unconstitutional. Whatever doubts I had about it were swept away by the minority report which agreed that it was a constitutional bill. But this is a bill expressly authorized by the Constitution, and I am opposed to postponing it.

Mr CARTWRIGHT. This Senate has passed a bill to tax and protect Chinamen—to give them a right, on conditions, to work in our mines. There is a constitutional provision which gives the Legislature authority to provide for the exclusion of that class of people from the State, but the Legislature has never done anything of the kind, and I for one do not propose to do it now. Now, I think I understand the object of introducing this bill. This is a Union administration, a Union Governor at the head of it; this is a Union Senate. We have passed a bill to authorize Chinamen to work in our mines, to tax them for it and to protect them. These gentlemen now want us to contradict ourselves and to say that Chinamen shall not have any such privileges and shall not be protected. They want to get us in that predicament. I believe that the bill we passed was a constitutional one and was right. I don't believe that the Constitutional Convention had any right to put that provision in the Constitution. At all events I am not disposed to favor such a bill as this, after having voted for the bill to give Chinamen the privilege of working the mines. I prefer to be consistent.

Mr CRANSTON. I am surprised at the course of some gentlemen on this floor. It was but a few days since those gentlemen voted here to recognize the right of Chinamen to hold and work mines in this State and now we find them introducing a bill to keep all such persons out of the State. This bill is in direct conflict with the provisions of the bill for which they voted but a few days ago. Not only is this conduct inconsistent but the bill now proposed is in conflict with the enlightened spirit of the age and every dictate of humanity.

Mr HUSTON. I voted for the former bill, supposing it would be the only one on the subject which would be submitted to us. As I said before, my objections to it were swept away by the reasoning of the report from the majority of the Judiciary Committee. The gentleman from Marion says the Constitutional Convention had no right to put in the Constitution the clause forbidding Chinamen to come here and hold property. Right or wrong, that clause is in the Constitution, and we are sworn to support it.

Mr JEFFRIES. The gentleman from Lane says he is surprised at my conduct in supporting certain measures here. That gentleman nor no other need be surprised at my conduct in any question which involves a constitutional provision. He need never be surprised when he sees me standing by the Constitution firmly and consistently. If he will inquire into my past record he will find that I have always observed and reverenced that instrument, and if he will take the trouble to follow me through life I think he will always find me strictly and consistently adhering to the Constitution. Whether the Constitution of Oregon is right or wrong—whether the convention did right or wrong in putting that clause into it, the clause is there and we are sworn to obey and support it. I am not sure whether the Union party or any other be in the ascendancy, we are under obligations to sustain the Constitution. The speaker went on at some length to defend his consistency and to show that the language of the Constitution was directory to the Legislature in regard to the exclusion of Chinese from the State.

Mr CARTWRIGHT followed in a speech of some length contending that the clause in the Constitution which provides that the Legislature shall pass appropriate laws to enforce the exclusion of Chinese, was not mandatory but permission and the Legislature could omit to do it, without in any manner violating the Constitution. This question, he said, had been decided by the courts. He would not consent in this enlightened age to pollute the statutes with a law so inhuman.

Mr JOHNSON said he would like to have the gentlemen who advocated this bill put themselves on the record. If they thought there was any political capital in it, they were welcome to it. He hoped the bill would be permitted to go through the regular course that those gentlemen might be put upon the record in a square vote upon the merits of the bill. He thought the capital to be made would not be to the advantage of the gentleman or the party with which they act.

The PRESIDENT called attention to the rule which prescribes that if a bill upon first reading be objected to, the question shall be, "shall the bill be rejected?" The question will be upon rejecting the bill.

The vote being taken resulted yeas, 12, nays, 6—Democrats all voting nay.

Mr CARTWRIGHT introduced S B 49 for the relief of Henry L. Pittock, late State Printer.

Mr HUSTON. I object to the bill.

The question being taken on rejection, the yeas were, 6, nays, 14—Democrats all voting yeas, except Mr Ison. Mr Palmer voted aye. The bill was then read the second time, and referred to the committee on claims.

Mr JEFFRIES introduced S. B. No. 50—to prohibit negroes and mulattoes from coming to or residing in this State. The bill also provides the manner of ejecting persons of that class from the State.

Mr CARTWRIGHT. I object to the bill.

Mr CARTWRIGHT. We have a law which is paramount to the Constitution of this State, to support which is just as obligatory upon the gentleman's conscience as is the Constitution. He was in favor of strict compliance with the law. This bill is against the spirit of the age, against humanity, and against decency.

Mr JEFFRIES. I have heard for years about this higher law which is above all Constitutions; but I know of law higher than the constitutions of this State and of the United States. The gentleman claims that because a sectional Congress, composed of representatives from only a portion of the States whose acts have twice been declared unconstitutional by the courts of the country,

Mr CARTWRIGHT. I withdraw my objection to the bill.

The rules were suspended and the bill read a second time and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

S B No. 33, to amend the act relating to collection and return of taxes. Referred to the Committee on Counties.

S B No 32, to authorize the enclosure and improvement of Capitol Block in Salem.

Mr BROWN moved to refer to a select committee of Three. Agreed to, and Messrs Brown, Crawford and Palmer were appointed.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

S B No. 20. To authorize towns, cities and counties to aid in public improvements. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

S B No. 30. For the relief of Baker county. Passed—yeas, 16, nays, 3.

Mr JEFFRIES offered a resolution that the Senate will hereafter meet at 9 o clock A M, and 7 o clock P M of each day. Adopted.

The Senate adjourned.

AFTERNOON—2 O CLOCK—BUSINESS FROM THE HOUSE.

A message was received from the House, transmitting H B No 2, to prohibit the amalgamation of the races, which was read first and second times.

Mr DONNELL obtained leave of absence for Mr Powell for the remainder of the day.

Mr STEINS offered a Joint Resolution providing for a Joint Convention of the two houses at 12 M on the 19th inst. for the purpose of electing a Librarian and three Pilot Commissioners for the Columbia river. The resolution was adopted—14 to 1.

H J R No 18. Relating to a wagon road from Grand Ronde to Tillamook Bay, was concurred in unanimously.

H J R No 19. Relating to ocean mail service, was concurred in—17 to 1.

H J R No [illegible].—Relating to a grant of land to construct a military and post road from Astoria to Tillamook Bay—was concurred in 17 to 1.

H J R No 20—Asking our Congressional delegation to use their influence to prevent the repeal of the law locating a branch mint at the Dalles—was concurred in 17 to 1.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Mr HINSDALE on leave introduced S B No 57—authorizing the purchase of a safe for the State. The bill was read 1st, 2d and 3d times, under a suspension of the rules, and passed without opposition.

The PRESIDENT announced that he had signed the following bills:

H B No 13—To pay the expenses of the Legislative Assembly.

H J R No. 8—Concerning troops for Eastern Oregon.

H J R No. 11—Concerning protection for Eastern Oregon.

H J R No. 12—Authorizing transfer of certain funds from the Penitentiary to the Legislative fund, and

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Fair

SALEM, Oct 16th, 1866

The Fair opened this morning with prospects much fairer than the opening day last year. A crowd of all is showing in the pavilion is on hand but very little put up yet. The attendance of visitors is very fair.

The trotting premium match for Oregon bred colts and fillies two years old half mile heats, [illegible] to harness and to rule was won by Mr Welch's brown filly against Durbin's bay colt, from Paul Jones. The first heat was not timed. The 2d was made in 2 05. The premium offered $[illegible].

The running match for three year old Oregon colts or fillies single dash of one mile, for premium of $50 was not contested there being but one entry—Thunderbolt, by J G Basket. This is a fine horse colt from Humboldt. He made the dash in 2.0.

There will be a running match to-morrow for two-year olds one mile, and a trotting match for all stallions, mile heats, best two in three.

Legislative

The legislative proceedings are devoid of interest both houses working upon the regular orders with very little debate.

ANOTHER STRONG INDORSEMENT.—The subjoined paragraphs are from the Shreveport (La.) News. The article appeared shortly after the adjournment of Johnson's Convention, and the closing words of the quotation refer to that masquerade. Altogether, it is a grand indorsement of "my policy."

> "Impatient, venerable Southron, we have all to gain and nothing to lose in the contest now brewing at the North; the fair haired son you mourn, who fell in the dark copses of the Chickamauga or perhaps upon the bloody heights of Gettysburg, looks over the crystal battlements of Heaven and smiles as the cloud of intestine war burdens over the sky of the North, for the day of retribution draweth near.
> "Be patient, young stalwart hero of many a well fought field, the day of your deliverance is nigh; the hour cometh when the shackles which despotism has riveted upon your proud limbs shall be hurled aside, and once more you shall step forth in the pure sunlight of the newly risen sun of independence, emancipated and free. Let us wait and hope, let us not forget that when thieves fall out, honest men get their dues, for as sure as effect follows cause, the Convention assembled to day at Philadelphia is the entering wedge to inaugurate civil strife."

SUBSIDIZING.—Following is an extract from the Randall circular which has been addressed by Johnson's Committee at Washington to every Federal office holder:

> From your official relations with the President we presume you will cheerfully aid his friends and supporters in the momentous contest in which they are now engaged. One method of doing this will be by a reasonable contribution of yourself and friends to aid in meeting the expenses necessarily incurred by us in this matter.

Yet the man who thus subsidizes his official dependents to get means wherewith to sustain his policy, accuses his opponents of having "subsidized" the public press against him!

In every State whose elections have been carried by the Democratic rebels, scenes of riot and bloodshed have followed. Union men have been persecuted and forced to flee, and negroes have been murdered. In the States whose elections have been carried by the Unionists, no disturbance whatever has occurred. People may draw their own inference.

GOOD NEWS FROM MONTANA.—From the appearance of the miners who are now returning from Blackfoot and the other mining districts of Montana we should judge that the mines have turned out remarkably well, as they invariably make a large deposit of "the color" at the St Louis Store No 111 Front street and receive an ample equivalent, of course, in the shape of excellent clothing such as Messrs. KOHN & FISHEL always keep. Everybody can be suited, both as to style and quality, and strictly at San Francisco prices.

THE PLACE.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL'S PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY, 89 First Street. Is the place to get the finest SUN PEARLS, the finest PHOTOGRAPHS, the finest VIGNETTES—in fact, ALL of the latest and finest productions of the art. We saw some magnificent specimens in those passe partouts frames which those gentlemen have recently imported. They are perfectly splendid and will no doubt be in demand by those who delight in the beautiful.

PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY.—Pupils are admitted at any time and are charged only for the remainder of the Quarter. For Circular containing full information address

NEW COMPANY.—We learn that on yesterday a company was organized in this city for the purpose of building boats and other necessary means of transportation and will insure a safe and speedy mode for travel and freight from the O S N Company's line of boats. This company will be called the Oregon and Montana Transportation Company. Messrs J C Ainsworth, S G Reed, H A Hogue, Z F Moody and R R Thompson are chosen directors. J C Ainsworth, President, S G Reed, Vice President, H A Hogue, Agent, and Theod. Wygant, Secretary. The company has already the new steamer Mary Moody built last year upon Pend d'Oreille Lake, and a new steamer nearly completed at Cabinet Rapids and formerly owned by Abrams & Hogue. This new organization is a strong one and will rapidly prosecute the work so that when trade opens in the spring they will be enabled to push freight through rapidly. We wish the new company perfect success in their enterprise and they will have with them the good wishes and hearty support of our entire community.

MONTANA'S FREIGHT.—The steamer Montana brings freight to the following consignees: McCracken, Merrill & Co, Camp & Co, C H Myers, Bills & Co, C Hanson, D W Williams & Co, D A Lancaster, E Elkeles, Allen & Lewis, Drischner & Co, B C Leonard, Hurgren & Shindler, Field, H Martin & Co, A B Richardson, E M Burton, Hopkins, Corbitt & Macleay, Hayward & Coleman, J Northrup & Co, E Dalton, Friedman & Co, [illegible] & Schmidt, H Weinhard & Co, Hodge, Calef [illegible], H Hatfield, J A Couch, Mrs C Levy, W Henley, [illegible], James Field, O S N Co, J A Fisher, J Donahue, Spalding, Joseph Harris, Knapp, Burrell, & Co, Lilienthal, Leeran Bros, OREGONIAN, Robinson & [illegible], Smith, Shanahan & Dufrene, Savier & Co, Wa[illegible], [illegible] Hogan & Co, Opitz, & Co, R G Sneath, [illegible] & Davis, Scott & Co, Silver & Fain.

PASSENGER LIST.—The steamer Montana brings the following list of passengers: J H Day, Dr L H Roberts, [illegible] Clark, C S Silver, Omar Jowell, John Powers, J [illegible], Henry Brown, Mrs Lindenberger, S Levinson, [illegible], T Woolstein, Mrs R Fittock & child, R [illegible], John Haynes, Henry Stewart, Rev I S Knight, [illegible], Frank Dennon, J P Dameron, Miss Mendius, P [illegible], Mrs M Whitcomb & child, F Edwards, Mrs M [illegible] & Child, L Prenard, Mrs Mary Harland & daughter, [illegible] Field, Mrs Hord, G Collins, J S Dyman, [illegible], J Smith, A J Haynes, J F Peters, S [illegible], Prenard, Jas Carlton and 14 others.

NOT HERE.—The steamer Wilson G Hunt did not arrive until 6 o'clock last evening. She was detained at the Cascades by the breaking of the 'Pony' locomotive, which, it is said, the company has sold to parties in San Francisco. A large number of passengers came down, a majority of whom were miners, as appeared by that peculiar yell so notable in miners as a class. The moment for the steamships commenced to descend upon the decks of their respective ships, when the miners upon the boat raised such a yell that the runners hushed. It [illegible] almost to see them quieted in such an [illegible].

BIG CABBAGE.—We are under a heavy obligation to Messrs. H Nibbing and W T Hammond for a large cabbage, weight before trimming 36 pounds, after trimming [illegible]. This is a large cabbage, and enough to satisfy most men, yet it is not a circumstance when compared with a number of cabbages brought to market yesterday by the same parties. One doz weighed after trimming [illegible]. Who can beat it? The farm where these were grown is situated 15 miles east of Portland at [illegible] landing up the Columbia river. Messrs. Kibbing [illegible] propose to raise larger ones next year.

BIG GAME.—The steamer Montana reports that when off Cape Blanco, great numbers of porpoise was met. The ship has now made 15 trips and has never met such numbers of them. The sea was running high and a strong [illegible] gale was blowing. Yet they went tumbling [illegible] by the war of the elements—also a [illegible] of whale, above a hundred in number. What [illegible]! we wait and wonder.

[illegible].—The steamer Montana arrived yesterday; [illegible] is her memoranda. Left San Francisco on the 11th at 10:30 A. M., arrived off the bar on the 14th at 10:30 P M. Crossed the bar on the 15th at 9 A M, discharged 40 tons Government freight at Astoria. Was detained at Swan Island bar since 10 P M on Sunday.

[illegible] Brewery with all the appurtenances [illegible] was sold yesterday in East Portland by Mr. A B Richardson, auctioneer, to Mr. Peter Gohno, for the sum of $4,750. The property was desirable and a large crowd attended the sale. The price is considered [illegible]. Mr Gohno, we understand, intends engaging in [illegible].

NEW WINTER HATS.—Winter is now at hand, and those who desire [illegible] the latest styles should go to Meussdorffer & [illegible] the Gathrings, Driving Cap and the Riverside [illegible] Cap, they are new and stylish. We see that the [illegible] are indebted to Mr. M for the new caps in [illegible] uniformed.

SOLD.—The Commodore Perry was bought yesterday by H. Hayden, for $3,775. The implements [illegible] Mr E. J Northrup. There yet remains unsold [illegible] wharf boat, now lying at St. Johns.

STATE FAIR.—Crawford's patent elevator, used by [illegible] Co in hoisting those heavy safes, weighing [illegible] pounds, was sent yesterday to the State Fair at Salem.

[illegible].—The steamer Senator did not arrive [illegible] 6 o'clock last evening. She brought 80 tons of freight for the steamships—50 tons from Savier & Co's mill, and 30 tons from the Standard mills.

THE MONTANA.—The Montana probably got off Swan Island bar at 11 o'clock last night. Her passengers were brought up earlier in the day.

[illegible].—The sailing of the steamship Oriflamme, [illegible] for 10 o'clock to-day, has been postponed until 9 o'clock on the 18th instant—Friday next.

SHEEP.—The steamer Julia took on yesterday to Montana, 1,000 head of sheep, belonging to Mr Clark.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

An Olympia correspondent writes, (Oct. 11th)

An agent, [illegible] the latest Pacific railroad, was [illegible] week, direct from the Atlantic States, and [illegible] to Seattle, accompanied by several [illegible] gentlemen who have railroad on the brain, to locate the road through the Snoqualmie Pass—[illegible] the [illegible] papers, except a few greenbacks [illegible] which it is expected the citizens of Puget Sound will generously donate. The people as yet, [illegible] the point. The agent is too well known, being formerly a citizen of Olympia, to carry through success [illegible] and swindle.

Two [illegible] youths about twelve years old, sons of Olympia [illegible] on Monday morning last, Young America like, left their "fond parients" care, and started out for Portland and the world in general. They were [illegible] on the day following and brought back, sadder and wiser—[illegible] proof of the wise proverb, "Spare the rod and spoil the child."

A breach of promise case is on the tapis here, and a good deal of fun and scandal is naturally expected, if [illegible] does not take a different turn, and unless the [illegible] bought off and drops the suit. Thirty thousand dollars is the sum demanded for disappointed hope and [illegible]. The gay Lothario is an old [illegible], should know better, and is not on [illegible].

The [illegible] is from the Walla Walla Statesman of the 12th instant:

NEW MINES

We learn from Mr John O'Donald, who is down from Colville, that quite an excitement existed in that place at the time he left, in regard to some very extensive mining ground just discovered on Arrow Lake, about half way between Colville and the Big Bend country. Nearly the [illegible] of Colville stampeded for the new diggings. About five miles of country has been prospected, and Mr O'Donald was assured that from ten cents [illegible] to the pan was easily obtained. The steamer [illegible] Capt. Len. White, runs past the new diggings, en route to the Big Bend mines. Mr O'Donald brought [illegible] of the dust with him, and it is pronounced to be worth $18 per ounce, the dust resembles Mormon Basin gold of California. It is certainly good for some [illegible] at such dust as "Uncle John" has on [illegible]. Capt. White is in good spirits, the last trip of the [illegible] took up forty passengers and a large lot of goods to the new diggings. We are glad to learn that we have such diggings so close at hand and hope that they may prove not only rich but extensive.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

On this (Friday) morning, at an early hour, a man named Geo. Grant, in charge of a threshing machine, at work on O. P. Lacy's farm on Dry Creek, was caught in the jack-wheel, and before the machine could be stopped had his right arm torn off below the elbow. Dr Gibson has gone to the relief of the unfortunate man.

ABSCONDED.

J. W. Murphy, a man who has been employed as private [illegible] for several months past, disappeared on Wed[illegible] last and has not been heard from since. He went down on Wednesday's stage to Wallula and there took the [illegible] for the lower country. It is supposed that Murphy was in some way implicated in the escape of [illegible], and fearing detection fled. Murphy leaves a wife and two children in destitute circumstances.

Baughman of the steamer Senator.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of Health! "But how?" you ask;
We answer: 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate from day to day
Each organ all on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN
And keep a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How [illegible] can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS" is our reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution and prolonging life no medicinal preparation either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Against the vapors foul that are
Flat fever taint the [illegible] air
Drink [illegible] water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories, and the baneful influences of sedentary employments it is only necessary to be fore armed with

Dyspepsia's pangs that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind
Agues that as they go and come
Make life a constant martyrdom,
Colics and dysentiric pains
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Never conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive only after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

The Difference.

I.

Men lose their ships, the eager things,
To try their luck at sea,
But none can tell by note or count,
How many there may be,
One turneth east, another south—
They never come again,
And then we know they must have sunk,
But neither how nor where.

II.

God sends his happy birds abroad—
"They're less than ship," say we;
No moment passes but he knows
How many there should be:
One buildeth high, another low,
With just a bird's light care—
If only one, perchance, doth fall,
God knoweth when and where.

Nasby continues with the Presidential Party.

FROM DETROIT TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Confederate X Roads,
(Wich is in the Stait of Kentucky,)
September 11, 1866.

I am at home, and glad am I that I am at home. Here in Kentucky, surrounded by Demo-crats, immersed a part of the time in my official dooties, and a balance uv the time in whisky with the privilege of wallopin niggers and the more estimable and soothin privilege uv assisting in mobbin uv Northern Ablitionists, who are not yet out uv the State, time passes pleasantly, and leaves no vain regrets. I allus go to bed nites feelin that the day hez not bin wasted.

From Detroit the Presidential cavalcade, or ez the infamous Jacobin radical party irrelevantly term it, the menajery, proceeded to Chicago. The recepshuns His Imperial Highness received through Michigan were flatterin in the extreme. I continue my diary.

Ipslanty.—At this pint the President displayed that originality and fertility uv imagineshun karacteristic uv him. The recepshun was grand. The masses called for Grant, and His Highness promptly responded. He asked em ef he war Judis Iskariot who wuz the Savior? Thad. Stevens? If so, then, after swingin around the cirkle, and findin traitors at both ends uv the line, I leave the 36 Staits with 36 stars onto em in your hands and——

The train wuz off amid loud shouts uv "Grant, Grant," to which the President responded by wavin his hat.

Ann Arbor.—At this pint the train moved in to the inspiring sound of a band playin "Hale to the Chief." His Majesty smilingly appeared and thanked em for the demonstrashun. It was soothin, he remarked. The air their band was playin, "Hale to the Cheef," wuz appropriate, ez he wuz Cheef Magistrate uv the nashen, to wich posishen he hed reached, havin bin Alderman uv his native village, U. S. Senator, etcettery. The crowd hollered "Grant! Grant!" and the President thanked em for the demonstrashun. It showed him that the people wuz with him in his efforts to close his eyes on a Union of 36 Staits and flag of 36 stars onto it. Ef I am a traitor, sed he, warmin up, who is the Judis Iscariot? Ez I'm swingin around the cirkle I find Thad. Stevens on the one side and Jeff Davis on the

The conductor cruelly started the train without givin him time to finish.

The crowd proposed three cheers for Grant, and the President waved his har to em sayin that he thanked em, showin as it did that the people wuz with him.

Battle Creek.—A large number was assembled here, who ez the train stopped yelled "Grant! Grant!" Affected to tears by the warmth uv the reception, the President thanked em for this mark of confidence. Ef he ever hed any doubts ez to the people's being with him these doubts wuz removed. He would leave in their hands the flag and union uv 36 States and the stars thereto appertaining. Ef he wuz a Joodis Iskariot who wuz——

The crowd gave three hearty cheers for Grant ez the train moved off, to wich the President responded by waving his hat.

Kalamazoo.—The offishels were on hand at this pint and so wuz the people—4 offishels and several thousand people, which the latter greeted us with cheers for "Grant! Grant!" The President responded, sayin, that in swinging around the circle he hed been called Joodis Iskariot for sacrificin hisself for the people!—Who wuz the Savior? Wuz Thad. Stevens? No! Then clearly into your hands I leave the Constitooshun uv 36 stars with thirty-six States onto em, intact and undissevered.

The offishels received the stars and States, and amid cheers for Grant, for which the President thanked em, the train glode off magestically.

And so on to Chicago, where we didn't git off our speech, though the manner in which the people hollered Grant! Grant! we felt cheered at realizin how much they wuz with us. His eminence wanted to sling the 36 States and the flag with the stars at em, but ez Gen. Logan wuz there ready to fling em back, it was deemed highly prudent not to do it.

Here my trials commenst. At the Biddle House, in Detroit, the nigger waiters showed how much a African can be spiled by bein free. They had the impudence to refoose to wait on us, and for a half hour the imperial stumick was forced to fast. This alarmin manifestation uv negro malignancy alarmed His Eggselency. "Thank God," said he, "that I vetoed the Freedmen's Buroo Bill. I hev bin Alderman uv my native town—I hev swung around the entire circle—but this I never dreamed uv. What would they do if they hed their rites!" The insident made an impression onto him, and at Chicago he resolved to trust 'em no longer. He ordered his meals to his room and sent for me. "My friend," sed he, "taste everything onto this table!"

"Why, my liege!" said I.

"Niggers is cooks," sed he, "and this food may be pizoned. They hate me, for I ain't in the Moses bizness. Taste, my friend."

"But spozin," sed I, "that it shood be pizoned? Wat uv my bowels! My stomjick is uv ez much value to me ez yourn is to you."

"Nasby," sed he, "taste! If you die, who mourns! Ef I die, who'd swing around the cirkle! Who'd sling the flag and the 36 stars at the people, and who'd leave the Constitooshun in their hands? The country demands the sacrifice, and besides, ef you don't, off goes your official head."

That last appeal fetched me. Rather than risk that offis I'd chaw striknine; for of what akkount is a Dimokrat who hez wunst tasted the sweets uv place and is ousted. And from Chicago on I wuz fotched to taste his food and likker—to act ez a sort of lightnin rod to shed off the vengence uv the nigger waiters. I wood taste uv every dish and drink from every bottle, and ef I didn't swell up and bust in 15 minits, His Serene Highness would take hold. I suffered several deaths. I resoom my diarry:

Joliet—The crowd wuz immense. The peasantry, ez the train approached, rent the air with shouts of "Grant!" "Grant!" His Potency, the President, promptly acknowledged the compliment. He wuz sacrificin himself for them—who hed made greater sacrifices? He hed bin Alderman uv his native town and Vice President, —he wuz too modest to make a speech, but if he wuz Joodas Iskariot, who wuz the Savior? He had swung round the cirkle and hadn't found none so far. He left in their hands——

And so on, until near St. Louis, when we penetrated a Dimokratic country, uv wich I informed his Majesty. "How knowest thou?" ses he. "Easy," sez I. "I observe in the crowds a larger proportion of red noses and hats with the tops off. I noticed the houses unpainted, with pig-pens in front uv 'em; and what is more, I observe the crowds compliment you direct instead of doin it, ez heretofore, over Grant's shoulders. The Knights uv the Golden Cirkle, wich I spect is the identikal cirkle you've been swinging around lately, love you and approach you confidently."

The President brisked up, and from this to Indianapolis he spoke with a floodity I never observed in him before. I may say, to use a medikle term, that he had a hemorrhage of words. At the latter city our recepshun wuz the most flatterin uv any we have experienced. The people, when the President appeared on the balcony of the Bates House, yelled so vociferously for Grant that the President when he stepped forward to acknowledge the compliment coodent be heard at all. He waved his hat, and the more he waved it, the more complimentary the crowd became. Grant! Grant! they yelled, and the more the President showed himself the more they yelled Grant, until overpowered by the warmth uv the recepshun, and unwilling to expose his health, the President retired without slinging a speech at em, but entirely satisfied that the people wuz with him.

The next mornin the office holders uv the State, without the people, assembled, and he made his regular speech to 'em, which appeared to be gratifyin to both him and them. The President does not like to sleep with an undelivered speech on his mental stumick. It gives him the nitemare.

Here I left the party for a short time, that I might go home and attend to my official dooties. There is five Northern families near the Corners which must hev notice to leave, and eight niggers to hang. I had orders to report to the party somewhere between Looisville and Harrisburg, which I shall do, ez travelin by order I get mileage and sich. PETROLEUM V. NASBY,

The Poorman Mine.

The following is from the Owyhee Avalanche:

About one year ago "we" got up an item in regard to "our mines" from a specimen of "Poorman" exhibited by Geo. Barry. Had seen so many specimens of said genus that we were not particularly enthusiastic about it. In a few days, however, the community had taken sides and were about going through each other in a manner that would pale the entire actions of the celebrated Kilkenny felines—and we discovered our misfortune in not being a lineal spur of the celebrated Poorman family. But let that pass. In looking over the files we find that yesterday was the anniversary of a visit to the Poorman discovery—a day we can never forget. The picture then and there presented partook extensively of the infernal. The "line of beauty" was made up of shot-guns and six-shooters. The respective belligerents occupied a line about a thousand feet in length; the grass and brush on the mountain was on fire and the wind blowing a hurricane; what with dust and smoke and a splendid prospect for a promiscuous use of powder and lead on a minute's notice, the scene rather compelled us to take a deep interest in the situation. However, the nature of the conflict assumed a different phase ere night—perhaps it was best for all hands.

Ore enough had already been extracted to sound the wealth of Owyhee and inaugurate a first-class law-suit. It is needless to recount the social disorders engendered during the interval of two-thirds of a year.

Last Sunday we took occasion to re-visit the scene of former hostilities. After winding round and up War Eagle Mountain—that modern Tower of Babel, to which "capitalists" make pilgrimages from afar to worship the Holy Stone of quartz—we were pleased to note the contrast presented along the line of the "Hays & Ray vs. Poorman." [If some of the similes in this "piece" don't hitch very prettily, you'd better "take sugar'n, &c.] Chas. S. Peck, Esq.—the hero of the plaintiffs—kindly volunteered (as theatricals say) to show us through. Took a farewell (and offered some to Peck) of the outside world and went into the bowels of the earth—whose bowels are found to be rather small in places—owing, perhaps, to their being possessed by a "Poorman." Mr. P. lighted the way to every nook and corner of the works—a treat to be remembered. The wealth of the mine is everywhere visible—above, below and the entire length is worked. The vein matter, as it appears in the mine, resembles a plum pudding—plums representing the solid black sulphurets and ruby silver from the size of a walnut up to twenty and fifty pounds weight. Sunday last the workmen had in tow a piece of ruby silver and sulphurets that, if gotten out whole, would weigh over five hundred pounds. Through carelessness of some of the miners, it was cracked in two before leaving its bed. We "held a candle to it" on one side, where the space between the ore and casings permitted a view of about one foot square, and the surface indicated was solid, sparkling ruby silver. This piece looked to be about four feet long by two wide and one in thickness. The accident to it is greatly to be regretted. After tramping up the outside and crawling through the inside of War Eagle for three straight hours, the sight of the New Jerusalem, streets paved with gold would become nauseating and recall the uses of victuals, etc. We read somewhere of a man sunning himself on the side of a mountain, and while cogitating on the ups-and-downs of life, a genii appeared and offered to grant him any three wishes he might make. The hombre asked for "health, wealth and long life," and followed the phantom benefactor into a cave that contained wealth to his satisfaction; health and long life were his in the bargain, but the want of bread and the desire for the light of heaven the genii had failed to supply, but closed the way and left the avaricious prospector to wail his fate through all eternity. Horrible! But not so with us. Louis Burthey, Esq., was on hand with about the squarest grown man's dose of grub we've discovered since between '48 and '50—at the "Hotel de France." Everything up there has such a heavenly air—this year.

End of the Election Tour.

The following account of the last scenes of Johnson's disgraceful exhibition of himself through a dozen States, is taken from the correspondence of the St. Louis Democrat:

Washington, September 15th.—The grand traveling combination of political stars having "swung round the circle" have reached home at last, though the different members arrived in a somewhat straggling fashion. General Randall came in advance this morning and immediately went actively to work at the arrangements to give eclat to the President. Seward arrived at 3 o'clock this afternoon seriously ill with cholera symptoms and was taken home in an ambulance. Grant arrived on the regular 5:30 train, getting out of the rear car clambered over a pile of railroad ties and struck for his home cross lots on foot, arriving there before his carriage had been sent to the depot for him. Last of all came the President, Secretary Welles and Admiral Farragut, who reached here at half-past 7 o'clock, two hours after the advertised time. Their delay is said to have been caused by the President's stopping at Annapolis Junction and Bladensburg to say just a few words, and to leave a copy of the Constitution.

The firing of salutes announced their arrival at the station. The marine corps and a detachment of regulars stationed here, the Democratic Clubs of the city, the residents, the Committee of the Philadelphia Convention, the Odd Fellows' Associations, the fire companies and the Johnson Department Clubs, which have coaxed or threatened every Government clerk who believed a little more or less than Administration standard, now nearly numbers one per cent, of all the Department clerks, and these mostly fossils which were petrified by the election of Lincoln and have since been dead or sleeping till warmed into life by "my policy." All there were but to welcome the President to the bosom of his family. Nor was there wanting a sprinkling of negroes, who evidently come out to witness the return of their Moses from his wanderings. Bunting in considerable quantities was displayed on the hotels and public buildings, although a dearth of it prevailed on private residences. But the scarcity of private flags is explained by the fact that most of the old residents disposed of their stock five years ago and have not had much demand for such colors since.

Everything which money or influence could do to make the demonstration imposing had been done. The clerks in several of the Bureaus had been called upon to contribute funds for purchasing fireworks. The departments were all closed at one o'clock. The weather was delightful, and the time of the day favorable, yet there was but little spontaneous enthusiasm, even among the great numbers who never uttered the name of Lincoln except to malign him, and in spite of the presence of hundreds of young men who were in the rebel army, and in whose affections Johnson is only second to Jefferson Davis. The crowd was turbulent and refused to be quieted even by the speech of welcome by Mayor Wallach and the brief reply of the President, neither of whom could make themselves understood at a few paces distance.

Much confusion was created upon the arrival of the President by a squadron of cavalry doing escort duty, rushing upon the crowd with unnecessary violence. The Department Club, which was standing as straight as a spelling class, became thoroughly demoralized. The Navy Yard employes, who voted a few nights since to sustain its own organization, and both became a mere rabble of struggling men, mixed up with fire balls, crushed transparencies, small flags and banners, hideous to behold.

After the reply of the President, which consisted of a slice of his old speech warmed over, the procession formed and marched up Pennsylvania avenue, which was lighted up by brilliant illuminations over a whisky shop and a gambling saloon. Arriving at the White House, the President again exploded with a speech, saying he was sensible of the distinguished honor of such a greeting from those he had known so long, and it was especially gratifying that he had been similarly welcomed by millions of people while away, and was satisfied that an inspiration had gone forth which would yet result in a true union of the whole country under the Constitution and the laws. And having spoken his last "piece," the crowd dispersed—many, no doubt, wishing he might go away again and stay longer, so as to give a holiday and fireworks on his return.

Turning the Tables.—In the course of an address to the people who assembled to see the President at Louisville, Ky., Secretary Seward suggested that one reflection had particularly suggested itself to him during the tour from the National Capital. He had found that "while in the Northern States there were great differences on the subject of the restoration of the Union, in the State of Kentucky, and he might with equal propriety say in all the Southern States, there was an entire unanimity of opinion in favor of the Union of the States. The South is sound and sincere in its loyalty to the Union." On the same occasion as that on which Mr. Seward made this remarkable statement, President Johnson said that "If the present Congress were permitted to continue their course, they would finally succeed in establishing a despotism concentrated in one department of the Government, and eventually the establishment of a monarchy."

The foregoing are singular remarks for the President and Secretary of State to make in Kentucky, a State which gave the Government more trouble during the war than any State in actual rebellion, and which has refused to this day to ratify the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery. We had been taught by Johnson and Seward to believe that the loyal North was in the right during four years of dreadful war to put down the slaveholders' rebellion, and that it might justly claim, as the reward of its successful valor and costly sacrifices of life and treasure, to readjust, on principles of justice and sound policy the practical relations of the States. Mr. Johnson, in particular, declared that traitors must take back seats in the work of reconstruction. It appears now, that we were all wrong. The defeat of treason gave the successful party in the war no rights, and to claim an equal voice even in settling the issues of the strife is treason. With wounds yet sore, with the hatchments of mourning for our loyal dead yet hanging to many doors, and our purses drained by the exhausting processes of loans and taxation, we are lectured on our treason to the Union and the Constitution in the same glib phrases which the rebels themselves and their Copperhead allies employed. We are gravely informed that the South alone "is sound and sincere in its loyalty," and that our true representatives in Cogress, whose measures supported our armies in the field and assured the triumph of the Union cause, are plotting to establish a monarchy! In short, we are told that it is the North and not the South, which needs reconstruction—the North is all wrong, the South is all right. This is turning the tables with a vengeance.

Can it be possible that the President and his Secretary really believe what they say? Can it be possible that the South, after all, is more devoted to the Union than the North? Such questions need no answer. They indicate to what an illogical and foolish extreme men can be carried by obstinacy and passion. Certainly it is a poor way to promote harmonious reunion to thus insult the very men whose bravery and sacrifices alone made reunion possible, and to teach rebels, who submitted only because they were forced to, that they are more virtuous than those who compelled them to submit. Conciliation is all very well, but the efforts in that direction have been altogether one sided. Everything has been done to conciliate the offenders, to apologise for whipping them, to coax them into the resumption of privileges which they scornfully threw away; but nothing to placate the just indignation of the loyal majority who saved the Republic from destruction. It is difficult to speak with patience and respect of such unjust and mischievous declarations as those we have quoted, and which need scarcely more than to be repeated to carry with them their own sufficient rebuke.—Bulletin.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining regions. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhea, Dysentery, and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere. sep20 HODGE & CALEF, 97 Front St.

The New Light!
DANFORD'S
Atmospheric Coal Oil Gas Lamp!

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT OF SOME SORT, IS A UNIVERSAL necessity. A Safe, Cheap and Brilliant one is a Luxury—a luxury only enjoyed heretofore by those who live in large cities where Gas is used. Years of study and much capital have been exhausted in experiments to produce a lamp wherein the ordinary Kerosene or Coal Oil could be used without a chimney, and without unpleasant odor while in use. That fruitful source of expense, trouble and annoyance, the chimney, is in DANFORD'S COAL OIL GAS LAMP avoided; it is the most perfect Lamp and will entirely supersede all other Coal Oil Lamps; it is the cheapest artificial light that can be used, yielding the light of an ordinary six foot Gas burner for less than ½ cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of an ordinary Chimney Lamp, for one third the cost. It will burn when turned down to a taper-light, ten hours for a cent, is free from smoke, can be carried from room to room and the wind will not blow it out. These LAMPS will be on exhibition and for sale at the Music and Art Gallery of Shanahan & Dufrene, corner of Morrison and First streets.

THAT OLD GREENBACK CASE!

I

still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes
at Par (and have been since Dec. 17, 1862, for the rent of
my Handsome Brick
Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce, for the benefit of the public, that
JACOB MAYER,
Leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were Cash. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the CITY OF PARIS STORE!
making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings
as the one referred to above.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male, are there who are suffering [illegible] ence from the effects of secret indulgence, [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their pale, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of life, or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state thousands suffer until death closes the scene. [illegible] guardians, friends, attend to those who are [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important [illegible] who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the [illegible] tended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] strict inquiry, or you may fall into the [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fated breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give his patient a written instrument, binding himself to a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box [illegible]. Consultations FREE.
